

The Ministry of Innovative Development of the Republic of Uzbekistan plans to hold Innovative Ideas Week “InnoWeek.uz” on October 29-31, 2019 at the National Exhibition Complex Uzexpocentre.

Representatives of scientific and innovation centers, both local and foreign, investment funds, technology agencies, technoparks and business incubators, representatives of business circles of Uzbekistan and foreign countries and leading scientists are invited to the event. It is expected that the Nobel Prize Winner in Chemistry 2011 Dan Shechtman will visit the event.

This is a great opportunity to become acquainted with new innovative technologies, attract foreign investment and find reliable partners. International Innovation Fair, International Innovation and Investment Forum and International Robotics Championship will be held within the InnoWeek.uz, which is held for the second time.
